Remembering Jerry

Having served with Jerry Ruark as a fellow principal, then as superintendent, I have collected many memories of our efforts to serve children here at Minford. Jerry had an educational philosophy and a leadership philosophy that we used to discuss and debate as professional educators often do. In reflecting on the way our teaching methodology and student-centered learning has come full circle, Jerry would be very much at home under our “new” requirements.

Jerry loved his work and he loved his students. After retiring from Minford, he continued to work in education. If there are schools in Heaven, you can be sure that Jerry has already rang the bell for classes to start.
